Glad News for Muslims

God promised us " I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go... " —Psalm 32:8

Almost, every day, I ask God to bring a Muslim into my path. God usually answers my prayers, for example:

Fashion Island Mall

One day, I saw a woman wearing a Hijab at a shopping Mall. I greeted her "As Salam Alaikum (peace be upon you), I love Muslims and I wrote a book that God has been using to help so many Muslims to enjoy His love and salvation. I would love to give it to you as a gift, if you like reading." I showed her my Glad News! God Loves You My Muslim Friend book.

She smiled and said "The title of your book has my name—Sara, I will read your book." (The Arabic word "Sara" means "Glad.")

Huge Islamic Center

I asked one of my friends, Christian, to come with me the Garden Grove, CA Islamic Center. We prayed that God will guide us. I took our evangelistic materials with us, and from the moment we arrived God gave us so many divine appointments, such as:

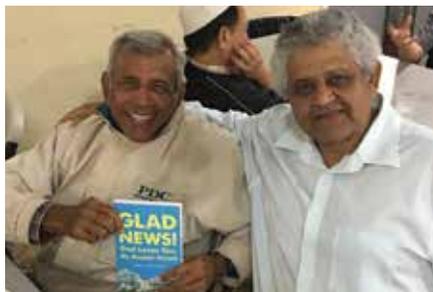

We met a Muslim young man, I greeted him "Salam Alakom," I asked him "Which country you were born?" and he replied, "India." I smiled more and said "Wonderful, many people think I am from India, do I look Indian?" I asked. He said, "Yes you do, where are you from?" I answered, "Egypt. What is your name?" and he replied, "Muhammad." I asked, "What do you do for living?" He replied, "Software Engineer." I said, "Indians are very smart."

A few hours later, I saw Muhammad in the Mosque's dinning room where we ate, and I told him, "I wrote a book, entitled The True Love, which I'd like to give to you as a gift, if you have time for reading." He said, "Yes, I would love to read it," so I gave him a copy. I saw him reading a few pages while he was eating in the dinning room. Then before he left, he came to my table and shook my hand firmly, and genuinely thanked me for the book. Then I was sure that God gave me divine appointment. An Indian gentleman heard my compliment to Muhammad and start talking with me and Christian, and he invited us to sit down at his table to eat with him. He said his name was Sedeque (pictured here). During our conversation, I discovered that he is highly smart and educated man and worked as Chief Financial Officer (CPA) at an important company.

While we talked and ate he said, "My wife is an eye surgeon, she traveled to 85 countries to volunteer her medical experience to the poor.

Christian told him about the Glad News! God Loves You My Muslim Friend book, and he said "I'd like to read it." I signed it and gave him a copy. He was very excited.

I left the dinning room, praying that God will give me another divine appointment in the Mosque. I went to drink water, I stood there by the water cooler praying. A middle aged man from Pakistan came to take a cup of water, so I smiled at him and said, "God guided me to write a book, to discuss the common ground and differences between Islam and Christianity. If you'd like to read it, I will give you a copy as a gift." He smiled to me and said, "Sure I will read it," so I gave him a copy.

As we were leaving the Mosque, I had one Arabic Glad News book remaining in my bag. I told Christian, "Let us thank God for the divine appointments He gave us, and let's pray that God will give us one more divine appointment before we leave." A couple of minutes later, I saw a family entering the Mosque. I greeted them, and we talked for a few minutes. They were from Syria, and I told them that "We pray that God gives the Syrian people peace and an end to the war." Then, I asked the 20-year-old man, "Do you like reading?" He said, "Sure, I am a university student." With a big smile, I gave him my last Arabic book. Christian and I left the Mosque rejoicing that God answered our prayers and used our lives.

Starbucks

Michael Johnson from Calvary Chapel Bible Fellowship asked me to meet him, to give him advice to minister effectively to the growing Muslim population in Southern CA.

We met at Starbucks, and I shared with him that we must manifest God's love to Muslims, through genuine relationship. God wants us to love Muslims. What we didn't know is that a young Muslim man was sitting close to us with his Muslim friends and heard our conversation. After a while he walked right up to our table and stretched out his hand to me in greeting, saying "My name is Seif." His face was filled with emotion and there were tears in his eyes as he shared, "I heard your words of love towards Muslims and I wanted to thank you." When I told him I'd like to give him my book, he said, "After hearing you speak today, of course, I will read it." We hugged each other as we said goodbye.

I told Michael, I always keep evangelistic materials with me because God usually gives me divine appointments. Michael was amazed and expressed his desire to meet me again, so we met after one month and again God gave us several divine appointments, and Michael was part of them.

ARE YOU READY TO SHARE GOD'S LOVE WITH A MUSLIM?

Connecting with Muslim Physicians

Samy, shortly after hearing you speak at my church, I ran into a high school and college classmate, who is the manager of a large medical practice in central Florida. He told me that he is working to prepare himself to speak intelligently with Muslim physicians in the practice. I am looking forward to getting him a copy of your book to assist him.

— William N. Barns, Barns Company, Orlando FL

We enable Christians to have Effective Conversations

Samy, I gave a copy of your book to a good friend last week and she has been really blessed by it. She helps with a "Conversation Café" at a church in Oak Park. The Café offers the opportunity for conversations between people who are Americans and others who want to work on their English. Most of the people who have been attending are Muslims. She has seen the Lord use these conversations to spark interest in the Christian faith.

Helping Soldiers Overcome Bias

I was listening to your message and saying, Wow! I learned how to share Jesus with Muslims and other people. I have been in a war with myself. The message God gave you helped me to change the way I am toward Muslims, especially Middle Eastern Muslims. I had a bias, a hate toward them because I am a Marine and went to war against them. I've seen lots of killing, and I've done so many bad things. I had to kill Muslims. Your message affects me. Now I want to help Muslims to know Jesus.

— Michael Hourihan, CC Fluvanna

To date 100,000 copies of

QUICK TIPS FOR STARTING A CONVERSATION:

1. Ask God to introduce you to a Muslim person.
2. Smile, and say "AS-SALAAM-ALAIKUM" (Peace be upon you).
3. Build common ground and use it as a stepping stone to the Gospel.

God has been using you and me to change the hearts of thousands of Christians and motivate and equip them to share Jesus effectively with Muslims, for example:

Samy, I am especially touched with how God used you to open my eyes to see the ways of the devil's work. He stopped me from reaching my Muslim neighbor because of the portrayal of Muslims as an enemy. You are right, Satan is the enemy and the Muslim people are his victims. — Renee Cope, Mission Calvary, Mission Viejo CA

Samy, I admit my thoughts of Muslims have not been so good and without any tolerance. The Lord has spoken to me through your message and my outlook has changed. I will make it a point to hand out your book, Glad News! God Loves You My Muslim Friend, to whoever the Lord directs me to. — Guy Skodmin

The Bible verses you shared, Samy, were very helpful. I liked how God used you and the message He gave you to change my perspective. Previously, when I saw a Muslim or my Muslim neighbor, it made me nervous. I think they might have bombs. I like how your message said to think of them, not as enemies, but as people who need Christ. — Evangelina Taylor, Daughter of Pastor Ken Trujillo, Cathy Valley Baptist Church

Samy, my sister-in-law converted to Islam after she married a Muslim man. You helped me with many facts I can use in the Quran and Bible to help Muslims like her know who Jesus really is. — Shawn Watson, CC Sunshine Court, Canada

Samy, I have a ministry in the North Seattle College area and meet Muslim students all the time. The information you gave us about Jesus in the Quran and the Bible will help me to be more effective in sharing Jesus with them. — Kevin Cheney, Calvary Fellowship

We were privileged to have Samy Tanagho minister in our church. Since he and his wife are from the Middle East, his perspective is unique and relevant for our day. I believe Samy can help your people overcome fear and share Jesus with Muslims effectively. Samy has a passion to see people come to the Lord and I would highly recommend him to you. His sermon was very informative. — Pastor John Carlson, Makakilo Assembly of God, HI

"...I chose you, I appointed you to go and produce lasting fruit..." —John 15:16

God is still using you and me to help so many Muslims become believers and followers of Christ, for example:

With love and respect we invite the Muslim people to understand who Jesus really is and to follow Jesus.

I just returned from the graduation of a church-planting school in North Africa for believers with a Muslim background. One brother raved about how many lives have been changed from passing your Glad News! books around.
— Pastor David Witt

I have good news! My grandma read your Glad News! book and she decided to follow Jesus our Lord just two weeks ago. My grandpa also read your book and said to me recently that we are going to be neighbors up in Heaven.
— Daisy

God has been using us for the salvation of Muslims in the UK, for example:

God used the Glad News! God Loves You My Muslim Friend book to help a Muslim lady in England to become a believer and follower of Christ. — Pastor Efreem Buckle

Adnan (pictured above), a Muslim man from Jordan said to me, "I am a good person." After we talked for long time, I said: "Adnan, even though you are better than so many people that I've met, you are not good enough to enter Heaven and enjoy God's presence forever." Then I explained to him why, concluding: "You need to accept what God has done for you through Jesus who paid the penalty for all your sins." Adnan responded by praying with me to put his faith in Jesus as his Savior.

LET US FINISH THE UNFINISHED TASK:

- ★ Nearly 40% of Americans say they know a Muslim.
- ★ 1 out of every 4 people in the world identifies as Muslim.
- ★ Most Muslims never receive answers to their genuine questions about the Christian faith.
